Labor Situation In U.S. Relieved As 2 Strikes End

NEW YORK (AP) — The end of crippling strikes in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia and revocation of New York City's closure order brought some measure of relief today to United States industrial cities.

Settlement of the work stoppages by power and transit workers, and lifting the shutdown edict in New York, came after a day of inconvenience and confusion to most of the millions living in the three large eastern cities.

While New York City resumed near normal operations of its commercial, industrial and amusement activities after 18 hours of paralysis, the labor dispute which was the cause of the shutdown remained unsettled.

There were no immediate indications of an end of the 10-day strike of 3,500 American Federation of Labor tugboat workers, whose walkout caused a drastic fuel shortage and brought about Mayor William O'Dwyer's shutdown order. The union has agreed to submit the wage-hour dispute to arbitration, but tugboat owners have not as yet reached agreement among themselves on procedure for arbitration of the issues.

In Pittsburgh, 3,400 employees of the Duquesne Light Company went back to their jobs after a 19-hour work stoppage in a dispute over wages. The strike, which threatened a complete power failure, ended on an agreement to establish a three-man board to mediate the wage dispute.

Transit service for Philadelphia's 3,000,000 daily riders was resumed after being halted for 48 hours by a strike of 9,900

Quebec Invites U.N.O.

QUEBEC (CP) — The U.N.O. has been invited by Armand Viau, industrial commissioner of Quebec City, to establish its headquarters on nearby Orleans Island in the St. Lawrence River, 10 miles below Quebec, it was learned at the City Hall today.

Jacques Greber, well-known French architect, is scheduled to visit the island next week and his report will be forwarded to the site committee in London.

Man Trapped By Cave-In Rescued

Fellow workmen of the city public works department rescued Johnny Jensen, 60-view Royal Avenue, after he was trapped by a cave-in while at work on a pipe-laying project on Albany Road, at 1.05 this afternoon.

Jensen, who had just finished laying a length of surface drain pipe in a seven-foot ditch, was caught by a 15-foot wall of rock and clay which fell from the side of the excavation.

He was buried up to his chest in the slide, and suffered a fracture of the right wrist and severe shock in the mishap.

'Sky Pilot' Wins V.C. for Bravery at Dieppe

For outstanding aid to the wounded on the torn beaches of Dieppe in August, 1942, Maj. John Weir Foote, shown above with his wife in their home at Port Hope, Ont., received the highest award for valor the British Empire bestows on her heroes. Maj. Foote, a 41-year-old, "sky pilot," was the Protestant chaplain to the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry. He was born in Madoc, Ont., and was pastor at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Port Hope, when he joined the army in December, 1939. He was a prisoner of war for over three years.

New York To Be Interim U.N.O. Home, Indonesia Only Unsettled Question

LONDON (CP) — A United Nations Assembly committee voted overwhelmingly today to establish temporary United Nations headquarters in New York City.

The committee rejected by 21 votes to 19 a proposal that the temporary site should be in San Francisco.

The action puts the site question up to the whole Assembly. The Westchester-Fairfield area of New York State and Connecticut had previously been recommended by the committee as permanent United Nations headquarters.

Indonesian Question

One other top issue, the Indonesian question, remained to be settled by the Security Council before the United Nations could adjourn its current meeting. Trygve Lie, Secretary-General, was reported to have expressed the opinion the Assembly would wind up its business by Friday night.

The Security Council was scheduled to meet at 9 p.m. to take up the Indonesian problem. One other issue, the demand of Syria and Lebanon for evacuation of French and British troops from the Levant, it was said might come before the Council before it concludes its winter session.

A Lebanese delegate said negotiations for an outside settlement were almost completely deadlocked and "the matter will definitely go to the Security Council."

Egyptian Proposal

The Security Council adjourned Tuesday to give members a chance to consider an Egyptian plan to solve the Indonesian issue, in which the Ukrainian delegation had demanded the appointment of a commission to probe British military activities in Java.

The proposal was offered after a majority of the Council members had expressed opposition to the Ukrainian demand, indicating the motion had little or no chance of approval.

The plan proposed by Egyptian delegate Mahmoud Riaz, called for the earliest possible withdrawal of British troops and for a report on the progress of Dutch Indonesian negotiations now in progress in Batavia on Indonesian independence demands.

The plan also called for a "happy solution of these negotiations in accordance with the (United Nations) Charter and the right of self-determination of peoples."

One difficult issue before the U.N.O. was disposed of Tuesday when approval was given limited association of both the World Federation of Trade Unions and the American Federation of Labor & United Nations consultants on labor policies.

The decision marked a victory for U.S. Delegate Senator Tom Connally (Dem.-Tex.), who had battled for a month against accepting the W.F.T.U., of which the C.I.O. is a member, without also approving A.F.L. affiliation on an equal basis.

Another issue, on which Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt had clashed with Soviet delegates, was settled when the Assembly voted to investigate refugee conditions in Europe, but rejected three Russian proposals that would have restricted political activities of persons in displaced persons camps.

Mrs. Roosevelt led the attack against proposals by Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet Vice-Commissioner of Foreign Affairs, which would have banned anti-United Nations propaganda in refugee camps, put camp control in the hands of administrators of the same nationality as the refugees and forced the immediate repatriation of any war criminals hiding in such camps.

Ontario Unit In Europe Has Brief Sit-Down

By ROSS MUNRO

LONDON (CP) — A sit-down strike which lasted several hours was staged Monday by some members of the Highland Light Infantry Battalion of the Canadian army of occupation in Germany, but the men went back to duty after being addressed by Maj. Gen. Chris Vokes, occupation force commander, it was learned here today.

The men asked for better rations and also to know the definite date of their repatriation to Canada.

It was not known here how many of the Highland Light Infantry, a Galt, Ont., regiment, were involved, but it is understood the strikers did not include any commissioned personnel or non-commissioned officers.

After Gen. Vokes had spoken to the strikers, explaining the situation regarding rations and the repatriation policy, the men went back to work. At all times the men were orderly and others in the battalion were able to perform essential duties.

The sit-down strike began about mid-morning, Monday, Lt. Col. G. B. Buchanan, Medicine Hat, Alta., commanding officer of the battalion, was absent on duty, but he was called back, and upon his arrival the strikers presented a petition asking for greatly-increased rations, and an announcement of the repatriation date.

Shortly after noon, Gen. Vokes arrived and addressed the men. He pointed out that a sit-down strike in the army became mutiny if soldiers refused to obey orders and return to duty.

Western Command To Act With U.S.

EDMONTON (CP) — Personnel attached to the Canadian army's newly-established Western Command will hold schemes with U.S. troops, Maj. Gen. F. F. Worthington, General Officer Commanding, said in an interview on his arrival in Edmonton.

He will be here until Friday, when he will leave for Vancouver, and will return in about three weeks to go north and join the Muskox Expedition at Coppermine.

Russia Likely To Bring Issue Before U.N.O.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department's blast at key Argentine leaders as wartime pawns of Nazi Germany hastened a fresh crisis today in the already badly-strained relations between the United States and Argentina.

Whether a formal break in diplomatic ties will result remained an open question.

State Secretary Byrnes told reporters the United States does not intend to follow up its "blue book" attack on the military rulers of Buenos Aires with any single-nation action against Argentina.

It is no secret at the State Department that the big hope behind the 131-page blue book is that it will exert an unfavorable effect on Col. Juan Peron's presidential aspirations in the coming national election Feb. 24.

The Blue Book was made up in large part of Nazi documents captured by the U.S. army in Germany. These documents, the State Department said, furnish "proof positive" of Argentine "complicity with the enemy."

Belgian delegate M. F. de House said that if the "Argentine case" was brought up for discussion he would ask why Argentina had been accepted as a member of the U.N.O. Belgium, along with Russia and five other countries, voted against Argentina at the San Francisco Conference, while the United States voted for her admission.

Most of the delegates expressed the opinion that unless the Russians brought up the case there would be no other delegation ready to introduce discussion on Argentina at this late stage of the London meeting.

Other charges were:

1. That militarists, including Peron and the present President, Gen. Edelmiro Farrell, assisted in a pro-Axis policy during the war.
2. That they conspired to create a totalitarian state in the western hemisphere and tried to provoke Fascist revolutions in Brazil, Chile, Bolivia, Paraguay and Uruguay.
3. That the Argentine government's Nazi-Fascist methods at home and its anti-Allied policy abroad constituted outright violation of its Pan-American commitments and were part of a broad scheme to undermine the inter-American system.

Discussed By Cabinet

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The Argentine cabinet today was reported in session at the Presidential residence on the heels of a "United States" accusation that Argentina had co-operated actively with the Nazis during the war.

Foreign Minister Juan I. Cooke declined comment on the U.S. State Department's 40,000-word blue book linking Col. Juan D. Peron, Presidential candidate, and other prominent Argentines with the Axis cause, saying he had no official knowledge of it.

Unofficial political observers, however, termed the document the most serious indictment ever made against an American republic and speculated that it might provoke a diplomatic rupture. There was some speculation that the Argentine government's Nazi-Fascist methods at home and its anti-Allied policy abroad constituted outright violation of its Pan-American commitments and were part of a broad scheme to undermine the inter-American system.

Many More Jobs Ready By June Veterans' N.E.S. Head Predicts

Belief that the employment situation across Canada would improve greatly by June, and praise for the manner in which employers are "playing ball" with the National Employment Service in the placement of veterans, was expressed in Victoria today by C. M. Morrison, supervisor of veterans' placements, National Employment Service.

In Victoria for the day in the course of a regular cross-country tour, Mr. Morrison was accompanied by Col. J. E. Wood, regional supervisor of veterans' placements.

"I think the situation will be much better by June as reconstruction takes place and more materials, particularly in the construction line, are available," he said. "It is a normal condition to have unemployment during January and February. They are always the peak unemployment months on the prairies."

"I do not think B.C. is any worse off in the matter of unemployment than any other part of Canada," he said, adding that the situation was not good in the large cities such as Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver.

Discussing the veterans' situation, he said there were less unemployed veterans last week than the previous week in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster.

"Employers have done much better than we expected and there has been no difficulty in the matter of reinstatement into old jobs in this region," Col. Wood said.

Mr. Morrison said that the employment service gave the veteran the preference in the matter of referral to a job, but that the final say belonged to the employer.

He discussed the work of the employment service in the matter of employer relations.

College Students Debate B.C. Liquor System at Luncheon

"What might be a suitable slogan for our present B.C. liquor system is: 'Drink to get drunk,'" declared Alan MacFarlane, Victoria College student, in a liquor debate that featured the Kiwanis Club luncheon agenda at the Empress Hotel Tuesday.

MacFarlane was supported by David Braide, student, in arguing the affirmative on "Resolved that the existing B.C. liquor laws should be liberalized." Ronald Grant and Jack Young, also of the college, argued in the negative. It was an informal debate, and no winner was named. Ronald Shepherd, president of the college Students' Council, acted as timekeeper.

Both affirmative speakers favored a liberalization system "to the extent of the British system." They painted a picture of the liquor laws in England which permitted sale of all types of liquors in the congenial surroundings of pubs, restaurants and dance halls with music and food. They pointed to British Columbia's beer parlors as a direct contrast to the overseas scene, labeled them "sordid affairs where music and serving food are absolutely forbidden." The democratic liquor scheme over there had in no way damaged the quality of the country, the former overseas men claimed.

The affirmative team did not mince words in condemning "the evils of our system. They were of the opinion the present operation stimulated liquor trade, "its hard-to-getness" creating an incentive to seek it.

To support their argument they touched on conditions like:

"sneak" methods being employed to enjoy a nip of hard liquor in beer parlors and other undercover drinking habits to evade the laws: the 750,000 of the 900,000 B.C. population (which includes children) who have permits to buy liquor at the present time; the 5 per cent drop in Canadian total abstainers during the period of 1933 to 1936; favoritism shown some customers in regard to choice liquors; people in the parlors "guzzling beer by the hour to get drunk."

PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN
Braide advocated a wide publicity campaign to bring about a more democratic liquor system. He was of the firm opinion that anyone who was under the impression Canada could not handle a liberalized system "are insulting us."

Negative debaters, Grant and Young, preferred the present government control over liquor to a scheme that would give private interests the monopoly.

Grant was of the opinion the reason for the liberal system in England was due to the people of that land not having such a great variety of recreational offerings as Canadians to spend their spare hours at. He expressed the opinion there was no stimulation whatsoever under the present B.C. system to buy liquor. He attributed the lower rate of consumption in Canada compared to that in the United States and England to government control. Young was not altogether in favor of the system at present. He wanted a modification in what he called "the right direction."

MacFarlane, in rebuttal, declared that while the government could not advertise to urge more buying of the liquor, individual companies could "and do." From 1933 to 1939, he said, liquor consumption in Canada was doubled. He lauded the scarcity of drunkness in England, noted there was a big decrease in suicides, in wartime there in spite of the quantity of liquor available. He felt sure Canada, under a similar liberalized program would be much better off.

GELSENKIRCHEN, Germany (Reuter)—Three thousand villagers in this Ruhr Valley area were listed as homeless today as a result of the Emscher River, a tributary of the Rhine, overflowing its banks. One man was drowned.

British Military Government officials are assisting in rescue work.

Four railroad workers were killed when a locomotive and four freight cars fell into the Wupper River, 15 miles north-east of Cologne, after an emergency bridge had collapsed under the pressure of floods.

There now are floods all along the Rhine Valley, and rain is still falling. At Cologne the river level is 26 feet above normal, the highest since 1920.

DUTCH RECLAIM FARMS ALONG ZUIDER ZEE
MEDEMBLICK, Holland (AP) — From the top of the great dike which holds back the waters of the Zuider Zee there stretches before you on the land side a scene of devastation that is logged in United Nations records as one of the meanest war crimes of the Nazis.

This was the flooding of the great Wieringermeer farm colony of 48,000 acres by dynamiting the dikes and letting in the Zuider Zee.

Three villages and 512 farms were wiped out. The Germans did this April 17, 1945, without military reason but solely as an act of hate just before their surrender.

But you can't beat the Dutch that way. Today, only 10 months after the flooding, the great electric pumps of the development have drained the land, and the farmers already are starting to plow for the 1946 crop. To be sure, the snug houses and barns have been destroyed and the farmers with their families live miles away in surrounding towns, but the land hasn't been ruined because the waters of the Zuider Zee aren't salt.

The colony was brand new, for the land was reclaimed from the sea only 115 years ago. The government had built the tidy houses and ample barns and had constructed three villages as well. The colonists rented from the government.

The Nazis long had hated the colonists because they were anti-Nazi and there were many underground workers among them. So the invaders, even though they were about to surrender, flooded the happy Eden.

The flood covered the land to a depth of 15 feet in places. The Germans did notify the colony a few hours in advance so that there was no loss of human life and only 2 per cent of the cattle were drowned. But the lovely farm houses and villages with their handsome churches and public buildings largely dissolved in the waters. Even the trees were killed.

The colonists are digging as the spring approaches. The government is paying for the losses sustained by the young couples and will replace their houses and barns.

When war broke out there were attached to this model colony rest are dead.

some 300 young German Jewish men and women who were studying the system for use in colonizing work in Palestine. All these were taken away to Germany. Only about 20 have returned, and it is reported here that all the rest are dead.

Canada Needs More Facilities

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian trade officials, hungry for United States dollars, have their eyes on one available field in which billions of them will be spent in 1946. That lush harvest in the tourist industry.

U.S. dollars are needed to balance Canadian trade ledgers and those dollars will make up by far the greatest part of the $10,000,000,000 reliable estimates have predicted will be spent on the North American continent this year by travelling, holidaying, visiting people moving from one place to another.

How much of that money will flow into Canada will not be known until autumn goes and the tourist influx is virtually over, but tourist officials here are predicting a boom year that will smash all previous records.

D. Leo Dolan, chief of the government tourist bureau, said in an interview that "a tremendous number of inquiries" have been received, some of them from Central and South America, but the vast majority from the United States. This is all the more surprising because Canada has not yet begun her advertising campaign to lure visitors.

In many cases reservations at the Dominion's better known resorts are being made unusually early. In the near future Mr. Dolan's department plans to make "a rapid survey" of accommodation possibilities that have never yet been used.

Looking ahead, he urged that once Canada has settled the housing problem for her veterans she should launch a major program to eliminate the shortage of tourist facilities.

The rewards loom as bountiful. In 1945, the industry saw somewhere between $150,000,000 and $160,000,000 spent in Canada and that was a near record, a 44 per cent increase over 1944.

McGeer Urges Strong
Defences On Coast

SEATTLE (AP)—Senator G. McGeer, K.C., of Vancouver, said Tuesday it was "ridiculous" for Canada and the United States to "make other nations strong at the expense of weakening ourselves."

He told a news conference the "next war" could be expected to be aimed from Asiatic Russia and China at the North American continent through Alaska, the Yukon Territory, British Columbia and the State of Washington.

"Let's hope," he said, "that we never have to defend ourselves against Russia, but certainly we don't want to be in the position of defending ourselves... without having made adequate preparations."

He urged that the Canadian and U.S. governments, jointly and immediately, "develop a real measure of security along the north Pacific coast... militarily and economically, with seaways, airways, highways and railways, and more population."

He said the north Pacific coastline was the only "vulnerable approach" at present to the continent, and would be the "Belgium of the future" war.

Mexico Gets Tankers

MEXICO CITY (Reuter)—The British government has offered a Mexican government-owned oil agency 16 wartime oil tankers between 8,000 and 15,000 tons each. The marine ministry, which received the offer, passed it on to the agency for a speedy reply as the offer will be open only until the end of the month. Purchase of some of these tankers is expected since the agency's fleet is small and foreign demand for Mexican oil has been increasing.

Last Tributes Paid
Admiral Jones

HALIFAX (CP)—Amid a demonstration of public esteem rarely equalled in the history of this naval port, the body of Vice Admiral George C. Jones was buried Tuesday in a snow-crested plot of Camp Hill Cemetery after a service and procession through the heart of the city.

Crowds estimated as high as 25,000 lined the route from his home St. Paul's Church through the business district as Halifax paused to pay tribute to a native son who rose to the highest office in the Royal Canadian Navy—chief of the Canadian naval staff.

SERVICE IN OTTAWA

OTTAWA (CP)—A quiet, impressive memorial service was held in old, wood-paneled St. John's Anglican Church here Tuesday for Vice Admiral George Jones, chief of the naval staff who died last Friday.

A representative of the Governor-General, Prime Minister King, members of the cabinet, members of the diplomatic corps and high-ranking officers from all services were present.

Fiorillo LaGuardia, joint chairman of the Canada-United States Joint Defence Board, and U.S. members of the board, flew to the capital to attend the service.

The service, held simultaneously with the funeral ceremonies at Halifax, was conducted by chaplain of the fleet E. G. B. Foote, O.B.E.

Record Bull Price

PERTH, Scotland (CP)—A shorthorn bull—Supreme Champion Pittodri Upright—brought a world record price of $61,335 for any breed of cattle Monday when he was sold to Ralph L. Smith of Snyder, Missouri.

Bidding for the animal, offered by R. Laidlaw Smith of Pitcaple, Aberdeenshire, started at $4,230. At the hammer sale, the Missourian paid more than $40,000 for a lot which included Champion Rosetta Alpha from the Bunchew, Inverness, herd of D. P. MacGillivray.

Killed By Motorcar

SWIFT CURRENT, Sask. (CP)—Marguerite Lines of Swift Current, injured when struck early Sunday by an automobile whose driver failed to stop, died in hospital Tuesday. Police are conducting a search for the motorist involved.

Winnipeg Papers Say Board Plan For Dispute Impossible

WINNIPEG (CP)—Publishers of the Winnipeg Free Press and the Winnipeg Tribune today made public a letter sent to Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell stating developments had made it impossible to accept the proposal suggesting the appointment of a three-man board of conciliation to investigate the three-month old dispute with printers of the two papers.

The letter said the publishers had exhausted every means of negotiation and conciliation available under the law to settle the dispute with their 120 composing-room employees.

Because the men had remained absent from their jobs during negotiations, the publishers had been forced completely to reorganize their business.

The original dispute involved the union's refusal to submit its laws to arbitration. Since Nov. 9 the two newspapers have published a combined daily edition which gradually increased in size. For the last week two papers, alike in all respects, except for comics and editorial pages, have been printed.

REORGANIZATION
COMPLETE

The letter said that when it became apparent that no modification of the union position could be anticipated, the publishers were forced to reorganize their composing-rooms. This reorganization had been carried out. New and binding commitments, both financial and ethical, were required to be undertaken. Consequently, "it is no longer possible for the publishers to resume any relationship with the International Typographical Union."

The proposal forwarded by Labor Minister Mitchell suggesting the three-man investigation board arose at a meeting held in Ottawa Jan. 30 and 31.

In a summary of the dispute the letter said the publishers had suggested the union refer the drafting of terms to a board of arbitration composed of one union representative, one publishers' representative, and a third member appointed by the Chief Justice of Manitoba. It said a reply was received after Dec. 17, in which the union confirmed its refusal of the publishers' offer.

However, the letter continued, it was not until Dec. 29 that the publishers gave notice of "separation from employment" to the printer employees.

This was the last of a sequence of events which brought to an end all relationships between the publishers and their former employees, the letter said.

HALIFAX (CP)—More than 3,500 German prisoners of war, under heavy guard by United States troops, are aboard four Victory ships which anchored in Halifax Harbor.

The ships arrived here Monday night to refuel before proceeding to the United Kingdom. The prisoners boarded the transports after being transferred by rail from internment camps in various parts of the United States.

ARGENTINIAN DISCLOSURES

LESS THAN TWO WEEKS FROM NOW the people of the Argentine Republic will go to the polls to choose a new President. Major interest centres on the candidature of Colonel Juan Peron—the South American proponent of the Nazi-Fascist philosophy—who totalitarianism had found expression in his conduct as the real force behind the Farrell regime. Although he is running as a private citizen, since he no longer holds any government office, the organization he has built up since the revolution in 1943 seems to respond to the crack of his political whip.

We said in these columns a week ago that as the United States was in possession of copies of all the telegrams passing between the Nazis and the administration Colonel Peron had so successfully dominated, "their revelation at any time for the delectation of the Argentine electorate should measure the extent to which he is dependent on the disciples of the Hitler philosophy among his compatriots to achieve his ambition to become their President." The sequel to this speculative observation made its appearance late yesterday afternoon; it has taken form in a warning to the world from Washington that the Nazis have built in Argentina a complete copy of the economic war machine they had in Germany, and possess all the essentials for reorganizing their aggressive power while the Allies occupy their homeland. Although several reliable correspondents have braved a rigid censorship to describe the political and other machinery of which Peron has obtained control, the detailed disclosures contained in the 40,000-word "Blue Book" which has now been distributed to all the other American governments—as part of the current inter-American consultations on the Buenos Aires regime—will come as a shock to all democratically-minded peoples on this and other continents.

On evidence culled from documents captured in a German salt mine, the "Blue Book" denounces successive Argentine governments for having given "positive aid" to the Axis nations during the war, and cites what it calls justifiable conclusions that:

1. The totalitarian individuals and groups controlling the Argentine government now aim to set up a totalitarian state and that this is already "partly accomplished";
2. By its "brutal use of force and terrorist methods . . . the military regime has made a mockery of its pledge to the United Nations" to reaffirm faith in human rights;
3. Ever since the Allies invaded Europe, Argentina had been adopting a "defensive strategy of camouflage" and that its "repeated avowals of pro-democratic intentions" proceed from this plan;
4. The policies and actions of the recent regimes in Argentina were aimed at undermining the inter-American system.

How much of this lengthy disclosure will be permitted to reach the Argentine electorate, or how much of it will be recognized for its sinister import to the future of the nation, must remain in the realm of conjecture. But when it is added to the policies which Colonel Peron pursued as Vice-President in the Farrell regime, not forgetting his behind-the-scenes manipulations since he severed his governmental connections, the contents of the "Blue Book" supply a new reason why the United Nations and the Pan-American Union will take more than a detached view of conditions in a vital part of this hemisphere from now on. But perhaps the voters, despite the repressive measures to which they have been subjected in recent years, will yet thwart the ambitions of their own imitator of Hitler.

ROTARIAN T. A. WARREN

WHEN THE IDEALS OF SERVICE inherent in Rotary International are supplemented by extensive experience in social and educational work, the combination should produce the character so universally needed in the world today. Embodied in one person, those qualifications should insure a type of leadership that holds firm to decency and brings to the task of everyday living those virtues which help to dispel the mists of distrust through the restoration of a sense of brotherhood.

These are characteristics which his many friends in many countries find in Mr. T. A. Warren, president of Rotary International, who reached Victoria today and who will visit his fellow clubmen at their luncheon tomorrow. The appearance of so distinguished a figure is timely. As a somewhat bewildered public searches for the paths to international understanding, the words of a man of his eminence will claim the attention of a receptive audience.

Mr. Warren comes well qualified to emphasize the objectives of Rotary. His experience in the movement is extensive and his background is one to fit him admirably for the task. For many years director of education in Wolverhampton, England, he has gained prominence in his field, having been a member of the National Educational Executive Committee of Great Britain and an authority of repute on methods of combating juvenile delinquency. His studies on social subjects have given him a broad understanding of human nature and his recognized abilities as a speaker equip him to disseminate the knowledge he has gained in a long and useful career. As the spokesman for the movement pledged to keep alive and strengthen the cause of a just peace, his remarks here will unquestionably leave a profound impression.

TRAFFIC REVISION

IN THE COURSE OF SEVERAL REPORTS Police Chief J. A. McLellan presented to the Police Commission yesterday—reports, incidentally, which provided him with the opportunity to compliment members of his force on excellent work during 1945—the chief constable laid down very definite recommendations to improve traffic conditions in the downtown district. It will be up to the commission, at a special meeting Saturday morning, to take some action on the problems.

It would be too much to hope that all his plans to improve the use of the streets and to safeguard both motorists and pedestrians will be received without opposition. Car owners, with an understandable human selfishness, will object to certain inconveniences the proposed new regulations would entail. But they cannot ignore the fact that the determining factor in traffic and parking policy must be the greatest good for the greatest number.

Revision of existing regulations is long overdue. Increased use of the main thoroughfares by public carriers and private cars accentuates the need to widen the traveled portion of the road and to impose stricter parking limitations in the business district.

The public will agree with Chief McLellan in his championship of "blinkers" at hazardous intersections and will, in the main, approve his plan to eliminate traffic-snarl left-hand turns on Douglas Street during rush hours.

There is much to be said, too, for his advocacy of parking meters in the central business area. Admittedly they would inaugurate a new, though voluntary, charge for the motorist who is already carrying a very considerable financial burden for the privilege of driving a car. But they would be far cheaper than the "take" which is levied daily in police court against those who over-park in limited zones.

The chief has advanced his proposals after careful study of conditions. They merit speedy and earnest attention from the authorities which have power to implement them.

B.C. SETS THE PACE

CONSIDERABLE SATISFACTION WILL be found by British Columbia authorities in the use by the Ottawa Journal of this province's prison library arrangements as an example of what might be initiated in Ontario penal institutions. The eastern newspaper, noting its previous remarks about "the musty and useless old books uncovered in the Carleton County jail library by the new governor," adds that criticism of the condition there had brought to the Journal office an article "telling how the British Columbia prison at Oakalla has solved the book problem for its inmates." There follows a brief summary of library facilities provided for the mainland institution.

It is not unusual that Oakalla's system was known in the federal capital. But developments in this field seem to have escaped the notice of at least one publication closer to home. Commenting on the Ontario disclosures of library inadequacies, that newspaper stated: "It would not be surprising, however, if much of their (British Columbia prison library) contents had long since passed its value."

The report by the provincial librarian to the inspector of jails gives the answer to that suggestion. It notes, by way of introduction:

"This first full year of library service at Oakalla Prison Farm has been one of steady and very satisfactory progress. Under the guiding hand of Miss Julia Stockett, the library at Oakalla has grown from a collection of very old and hardly ever read volumes to an educational and entertaining collection of 1,100 attractive books."

The review of activities during the year, 1944-45, lists the location of collections for women and men, provides impressive circulation figures and notes the appreciation of inmates for the service. The report further discusses the situation in smaller jails, the difficulties of providing adequately for short-term prisoners in small numbers which show, in some classes, a large percentage of illiteracy. Certain appropriations, however, have been spent for books and periodicals in such institutions and other volumes have been supplied on loan.

The condition existing in British Columbia is especially worthy of note. This province, with the sympathetic support of the Attorney-General, has been the first to modernize not only prison libraries but the techniques which surround prison administration.

WRONG SYMBOL IS BEST

NOW SOMEONE DISCOVERS THAT there is no such thing as the United Nations Organization. The San Francisco Charter says just "United Nations." No one seems to know who tackled on the generally accepted Organization. But there is a slight effort afoot to change the designation from U.N.O. to U.N.

We confess an allergy to the current and inevitable alphabetical designation of practically everything. But if we must choose, we will take U.N.O. in preference to U.N. Certainly the Spanish word for one is a more appropriate symbol for the United Nations' goal than the Anglo-Saxon prefix of negation.

Felix Gouin

From Service d'Information Francais—

IN THE POPULAIRE, Leon Blum writes: "A majority representing nine-tenths of the voters has called upon Mr. Felix Gouin to assume the presidency of the Provisional Government of the Republic. In spite of some grinding of the gears, the parliamentary machine operated; it operated quickly and efficiently. Scarcely was the presidential vacancy open when it was filled again. Our Communist friends have made it clear that they see in Mr. Felix Gouin only the president of the Assembly, designated by its unanimous vote and consequently an arbiter outside and above the parties."

"But they will find it quite natural, I am sure, if the Socialist Party continues to see in Mr. Felix Gouin a comrade who has been in our ranks for more than 40 years, who has taken part in all our struggles and whom we have found to be always faithful in all our trials. It is to comrade Felix Gouin that the Populaire today addresses the party's united tribute of devotion and affection. In the morning's press I read the advance articles about him. All of them were sympathetic. They praised his truly southern qualities of affability, versatility, and persuasiveness. That is the current theme. Now, I do not say that these qualities are a shortcoming in Mr. Felix Gouin, but to me they furnish only a very superficial and imperfect picture of his personality."

"I THINK I CAN say that I know him and I am not misled by his natural modesty. The more difficult the tasks, with which he has been entrusted, the greater proof has he given of his worth, and I am perfectly certain that he will continue to do so. His inner gifts are of a rare and fine nature, method in his work, sureness of judgment, an unwavering and scrupulous sense of duty, a love and need of truth, and above all a courage which amounts to self-denial and sacrifice. Those who heard him reply to the Assembly's compliment, in a tone that was grave, vigorous and even noble, were already able to sense those qualities."

"We have all rallied around Mr. Felix Gouin. He can count on everyone of us to support him, both in straightening out the difficulties which may still arise before the formation of the cabinet is settled, and in surmounting those infinitely graver difficulties which he will encounter in administering the government. One thing more. The transfer of power which has just taken place is in itself a victory for the democratic form of government. It is the free and normal working of democracy which permits us to replace a man such as General de Gaulle without an upheaval. Yet it was General de Gaulle himself who, more than anyone else, helped France to recover that democratic form of government. He did so against his personal temperament but in accordance with his reflected decision and above all in accordance with the will of the country. One would certainly display instability and even ingratitude if one were to forget that today."

IN L'HUMANITE Georges Cogniot notes that the Communist Party could have demanded the post of head-of the government "but the Communist Party considered the advantage for France in a speedy solution of the crisis. It has sacrificed its most legitimate interests and has made known that only the personality of the chairman of the Constituent Assembly, placed over and above the parties, could be qualified to take the leadership of the new government. It was this candidate wisely chosen by our party and firmly upheld, who was elected by 497 votes." The time left for the Provisional Government is short, concludes Cogniot. "The country knows the program: it is waiting for further nationalization which has already been agreed upon, for the liquidation of the surviving Vichy organizations and for the break with Franco. Under no pretext whatever would it permit an evasion of these duties. It wants a government penetrated with good citizenship which will put an end to irresponsibility and will get results."

SCHUMANN'S editorial in L'Aube says: "France's continuity calls for the continuity of the Republic. Must we lose all hope of one day seeing Charles de Gaulle accomplish with his own hands the great task with which his name is associated? To keep alive this hope, the first condition to be fulfilled is the keeping of the contract which de Gaulle himself signed between democracy and the country; between the people and grandeur. Any other attitude would have made him what he does not want to be, what he cannot be: the hostage of the two Frances, when the reason for his existence and perhaps for his eventual return is and will be to prevent there being two Frances. . . . To have any significance, unity must have a charter and a law. This law is 'true between the parties' which we need more than anything else, because national reconstruction implies it. This charter is the sum-total of the requirements that the Popular Republican Movement asks when it enters the government, because, if these conditions were not satisfied, there would not be a government that governs but, at the most, a cabinet dead before it is born."

LOUIS MARIN in the Nation congratulates the Constituent Assembly for having quickly solved the first phase of the crisis and for having chosen "a man relatively above party strife. In the performance of his duties, Mr. Gouin revealed himself as an excellent and just arbitrator. We have seen how much we lacked at this point a President of the Republic to determine the choice of parliamentary opinion. To have overcome this obstacle is a point in the Assembly's favor."

SILVER CEILING

Just a few comments on the lifting of the ceiling on silver. Heretofore, the producers had to supply requirements of Canadian users at 41 cents per ounce, the ceiling price, although last year the U.S.A. raised their price to 71 cents. Their surplus production was exportable at 71 cents plus premium (78 cents). Now, Canadian users must pay 78 cents per ounce.

It would appear that with labor more plentiful and the 78 cent price applicable on any increase in production, the producers were well away under the old set-up. Assuming that the prices received averaged 50 cents per ounce, and the ore showed a net profit of 14 cents per ounce, the profit will now be three times as great. Not a bad boost!

The ceiling price on silver, like that of lumber, was, I think, justified on the basis of a satisfactory over-all profit from sales to all markets. Canadian purchasers were enjoying relatively low prices while exports brought much higher returns and had to be restricted to surplus production. The price of silver doesn't concern the average citizen a great deal, but if one group is permitted to sell their produce in the home market on the basis of the U.S.A. price, how long can others, including lumber producers, be denied this privilege?

Some people seem to have lost sight of the fact that while the cost-of-living index shows a rise of 19 per cent above prewar, it indicates only a 4½ per cent increase since ceilings were im-

Want Sun Lounge For Beacon Hill Like English Model

There is no question but that the project will be well in the future, Ald. D. D. McTavish, parks committee chairman, admitted, but at some time he would like to see a proper sun lounge established on the Look-out at Beacon Hill Park.

At the present time there is just the glassed-in look-out, where people can take shelter and get what little sunlight there may be during the colder days. Elderly men, even on chilly winter days, go up there to play cards and checkers on the giant checker boards which are painted on the cement floor. The boards are now in the process of being repainted.

Vandalism which has broken close to two dozen of the window panes in the past few days, makes it difficult to keep the wind from whistling through the building.

Although there is a clause in the terms under which the park was deeded to the city which says no concessions can be granted within the park, Ald. McTavish said that it was possible the city could operate a sun lounge and tea room there itself.

In England sun lounges of this type are popular, and the famous Hastings Sun Lounge has recently been re-opened after being closed for the duration of the war. It has 6,678 square feet of floor space, including a tea room and dance floor, and would make a good pattern to be followed here on a somewhat less ambitious scale, Ald. McTavish said. The Hastings Sun Lounge cost close to $130,000 to erect in 1938.

Knox Church, Sooke

Knox Presbyterian Church, Sooke, re-elected its board of managers at the annual congregational meeting.

All church departments gave encouraging reports and the treasury showed a credit balance. A social gathering, sponsored by the ladies of the church, was held at the close of the meeting.

Northern Trek To Benefit Missionaries

WINNIPEG (CP) — The men who minister for the church to the scattered peoples of Canada's northland have an eye on Exercise Muskox, the 3,000-mile army trek due to start Thursday from Churchill, Man., touch the Arctic coast and go down to Edmonton. It may point the way to an easier time in the future for missionaries of the Far North.

Already Exercise Muskox, by its preliminary sorties, has proved the value of the snowmobile. For missionaries snowmobiles might dispense with the necessity of building igloos on extended trips since the vehicles could also be used as living quarters.

One great drawback is the expense involved, first in purchase and second in operation. Only limited amounts of gasoline could be carried, which would cut down the range.

Get Splendid Cough Syrup By Mixing It at Home

Quick Relief. Big Saving. So Easy! No Cooking.
To get quick relief from coughs due to colds, you should really try this. It's so easy to make, and mixing your own cough syrup at home. It's no trouble at all, and you know it's pure and good. It needs no cooking, and it's so easy to make that anyone can do it.
From your drugstore, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 oz. bottle, and add enough plain syrup to fill up the 16 oz. bottle. To make syrup, stir two cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, if desired. The 16 ounces thus made should last a family a long time, and gives you about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and children love its taste.

And for quick results, you'll say it's really fine. It seems to take hold instantly, loosening the phlegm, soothing the irritated membranes, and helping to clear the air passages.

GRANDMA UNSUNG HEROINE

DEAR MISS DIX—Much sympathy is expressed for the poor little war wives, but what about the poor war grandmothers of whom I am one? The war is far harder on us than on our daughters because we are older and less able to take it. All of us grandmas are glad to help out our daughters and our daughters-in-law in taking care of their children, but in reason. However, when they dump down whole nurseries on us and go off to take a job, or to spend their evenings cheering up the service boys by dancing with them, it is something else again.

Yet that is the way it works out and grandma is left to hold the bag and change the dummies. If it happened once a week, it wouldn't be so bad. But when grandma is turned into a night and day nurse and has to run after a toddler with her poor rheumatic knees, and isn't even paid the wages of a baby-sitter, it is pretty tough going for her.

Believe me, we grandmothers would like to have a night off from baby-tending now and then and be able to go to the movies, but we can't. Baby's mama has already gone. She beat us to it. GRANNY.

Answer: The newspapers say that there is much discussion among the brass hats about what this war shall be called. My suggestion is that it be called grandmas' war, for certainly in no other war have so many grandmothers been drafted to the support of the infantry.

In former years women with children thought they were doing their bit for their country by staying at home taking care of the baby and sister and brother and junior, but in this late unpleasantness, millions of young mothers have wished that job off on grandma.

Grandma has risen like a martyr to the occasion. She has given up her sunny room to be turned into a nursery. She has crawled out of her bed at night to give the baby its formula and Johnny a drink of water. She has walked the colic and stumbled around after toddlers, while the children's mothers were making money, or spending it on fine clothes, or going to parties to divert themselves.

And it hasn't been an easy job, for 70 isn't 17 nor even 27. Old muscles tire quickly and it is agony for grandma to run after a perpetual motion youngster. Old people like their quiet and their old ways, and no one has made a greater sacrifice during the war than grandma has in taking care of the grandchildren so their mothers could be canteen hostesses or lady riveters or what not.

Grandma is one of the unsung heroines of the war. Her breast would be covered with medals if she got her just desserts, but let's hope she will now get a rest, anyhow.

A. Worthington Heads Youth Action Committee

Victoria Youth Action Committee re-elected Alfred Worthington president at a meeting, Monday night, in the Y.W.C.A. Other officers elected were Alan Hickman, vice-president; Joy Fisher, secretary; Mollie Kayll, treasurer; Stanley Walters, publicity director; Lawrence Huck, membership director; and Mavis Pomeroy and Albert Davis, social directors.

Six members of the committee will make a study in Vancouver next week-end of recreational facilities for youth there. Next meeting will be held at the Y.W.C.A., Feb. 18, and youths between 16 and 24 are invited to attend.

Ladies Eager for 'Nylon Day' Next Tuesday But Stores Quake

Feb. 19, the red-letter day when wondrous glamour-making nylons will reappear is being anticipated eagerly by Miss and Mrs. Victoria, but the store-owners and managers look rather fearfully towards next Tuesday with the prospect of not having nearly enough of the precious stockings to satisfy demand.

Only two of the stores contacted have followed the policy of taking orders in advance for the nylons. They have worked out elaborate card systems, whereby the lucky lady who had

1947 Big Year In U.S. Business

A forecast that 1947 would be the "big year" in United States business, which would be reflected in Canada, was made by Harry C. Perry of the George S. May Company, a firm of business engineers of Chicago, addressing the annual meeting of the Credit Granters' Association of Victoria, in Spencer's dining-room Tuesday.

"Industry in the United States will not reach its peak until the latter part of 1946," he said. "Credit will be more prominent than ever before."

Discussing business trends, Mr. Perry stated that Canadian financiers in the east and big banks were going into more speculative fields of investment, including gold mining, lumbering, new power projects and private enterprise.

"Money is now searching for a higher return," he said.

Mr. Perry who served two years with the U.S. navy before he was wounded and discharged, spoke of the desire of many veterans to operate their own businesses. He said that in spite of the advertising in the U.S. by banks that liberal loans could be made, of 75,000 inquiries made to banks and financial institutions in California in 1945 up to Dec. 31 of 1945, only 194 loans had been approved. He discussed terms of the "G.I." loan in the States whereby the bank and government share the loan.

"The average serviceman coming back does not know all the needs of business—he is not business-wise," Mr. Perry said. "In some cases he attempts to use credit for capital, which means operating on a shoestring."

"In a period of one year between 1930 and 1940, of 100 businesses started, 94 failed in the competitive market," he said.

With reference to credit, he stated that in 1941 companies were falling right and left because of poorly-managed credit systems.

Among annual reports given were those of Ray Wellams of the bureau committee and Walter Fletcher, auditor's statement.

L. E. Evenden, retiring president was in the chair. George W. Robinson is president for the ensuing year and H. B. Dawson, secretary.

500 Students Learn Of Indian Habits

More than 500 students of Greater Victoria schools attended the first of a series of addresses sponsored by the Provincial Museum at which Dr. Erna Gunther, director of the Washington State Museum, Seattle gave an illustrated lecture on "Would You Like an Indian Dinner?"

Next Saturday Dr. J. A. Pearce, director of the Dominion Astronomical Observatory here, will speak on "Legends of the Winter Stars." The lectures are given at the museum.

Calling on her many experiences of living with coast Indians, Dr. Gunther showed how they depended on nature for food. Fish, shell-fish, sea-urchins and other sea creatures were used extensively and on the west coast of Vancouver Island, the Nootkas depended on whales as a source of food.

Foods found on land included salal berries, dried and pressed into cakes, and bulbs of the camas or wild hyacinth, baked in hot embers. Food was boiled in water-tight woven baskets by dropping hot stones into the water.

Just as children hang around during meal preparations to lick the spoons and clean out the mixing bowls, the Indian children licked the cooking stones as they were removed from the food dishes, said Dr. Gunther.

Various utensils and equipment such as cooking baskets, food dishes, tongs for hot stones, spoons and ladles were shown to the children with explanations as to their use.

Colored slides showed the red cedar tree from which many household articles were made.

"The cedar tree used to satisfy the needs of the natives from the cradle to the grave," she said. "Babies were clothed in pounded cedar bark, adults ate from cedar utensils, rode in cedar canoes and were buried in cedar wood coffins."

Recordings were played of the Cowichan Indian dance cere-

R.C.M.P. Veteran Of Arctic Retires

HALIFAX (CP) — The man who led a 40-day chase of the "Mad Trapper" of Rat River over the mountains and across the frozen Arctic, Assistant Commissioner A. N. Eames, Officer Commanding "H" division of the R.C.M.P., is retiring after 33 years' service with the force.

The 62-year-old veteran whose Arctic exploits wrote one of the most thrilling chapters in the history of the force, has served in more than a half-dozen divisions and sub-divisions of the R.C.M.P. from Halifax to Vancouver.

While in command of the R.C.

M.P. post on Herschel Island, north of the Arctic Circle, he personally undertook command of the R.C.M.P. and civilian patrol which hunted down the Alaskan desperado Albert Johnson over a 600-mile chase from Rat River to Eagle River in the Yukon, where the "Mad Trapper" met his death in a gunfight with his pursuers.

Crew Quarters Above Water, Union Urges

Victoria branch of the Seafarers' International Union went on record at the last meeting as favoring that all crew quarters aboard ships in deepsea and coastal service should be above the waterline.

William McLaughlin, agent for the Victoria branch, after a considerable discussion, reported:

"On many ships, because of cramped and confined quarters, crew members become easy victims in any accident that may occur to any vessel at any speed."

"A ship crew, trapped in their quarters by an accident with their lives endangered as a result, not only divides the attention of the responsible officers on board, but results in a further waste of precious time during an emergency."

"Other important considerations are those of health and sanitation which should not be overlooked."

"The S.I.U. feels that not only in the interests of safety of the crew, but also in the interests of the traveling public and the shipowners generally, all crew quarters should be transferred above the waterline."

It was reported the S.I.U. had presented its case to the National War Labor Board on behalf of the crew members of the C.N.R.

A film called "The Second Freedom," which is being presented to trade unions here by the National Film Board, was shown at the meeting by C. W. Marshall, Victoria representative of the board.

SINGLE BANYAN TREE MAY TURN INTO "FOREST"

The banyan has a good claim for first place as "the strangest tree in the world." A single tree may turn into a small forest:

In telling the story of this tree, let us suppose that we start with a bird which drops a seed on an open stretch of land. The seed is likely to sprout and grow into a tree with a trunk somewhat like those of other trees.

Branches spread out from the trunk. When the branches are long enough, "shoots" will grow from them and will drop toward the ground.

In due time the shoots reach the ground and take root. They thicken with the passing weeks, until they are like sturdy poles, serving as props for the limbs.

As the years go by, the thickened shoots will become like the trunks of trees. Meanwhile other shoots will drop from limbs, and will turn into new trunks! So it will come about that the single tree will be a kind of "forest."

Banyan trees are natives of southern Asia. Thousands of them grow in India and on the island of Ceylon. While I was in Ceylon, I spent part of my time in a small hotel at Colombo, and not far from the window of my room was one of these amazing trees.

The word "Banyan" means "merchant," and it seems to have come from the old custom of traders setting up stands in the shade of this tree.

Calcutta, India, has a park where a giant banyan stands. This tree has a main trunk which is 10 feet thick. There are hundreds of other trunks around the one in the center. The space covered by that tree and its many parts is about 1,000 feet wide.

A banyan tree in Ceylon is known as the largest in the world. When a count was made some years ago, it was found to have more than 3,300 trunks, of which 350 were classed as "large." (For nature section of your scrapbook.)

'Unorthodox Ways' Urged On Veterans

VANCOUVER (CP) — Robert Macnicol, executive secretary of the British Columbia Command of the Canadian Legion, suggested Monday an "unorthodox way" may have to be taken by veterans to protest delays in payments of gratuities.

Mr. Macnicol cited one case in which a veteran discharged Sept. 21, 1945, is still waiting for his first gratuity cheque.

"We are just about tired in trying to settle this matter in an amicable way," he said.

He declared that veterans had to take possession of the old Hotel Vancouver to direct attention to the deplorable housing conditions and "we hope it will not be necessary to adopt any unorthodox way in order to direct attention to the long delay involved in paying veterans' money," he added.

Women Lead As R.C.A.F. Volunteers

VANCOUVER (CP) — R.C.A.F. officials at Western Air Command here said Monday 80 per cent of the Women's Division personnel have volunteered for overseas duty, and that twice as many women as men have responded to the call for volunteers.

Officials said they saw two reasons for the enthusiasm of the women—they are not concerned as much as the men with postwar rehabilitation problems and by service abroad they would acquire overseas preference for jobs on their return.

Western Air Command officials said they have received approximately three times the number of volunteers required to fill the two recent quotas for overseas drafts.

American Attitude Smug, Complacent, Says Edinburgh Man

"The American people do not know what the British people have had to put up with. They have plenty themselves and do not know what the food situation was in Britain during the war and is even now," Andrew Murray, J.P., O.B.E., chairman of the National Fire Service Benevolent Fund in Britain, said Tuesday, discussing the proposed U.S. British loan of $3,750,000,000.

Mr. Murray, clerk of the city of Edinburgh, crossed the Atlantic in January to give the thanks of British firefighters to the American and Canadian firefighters who had sent $150,000, clothing and other help to them during the war.

He said he was convinced, after talking to many Americans, that they did not know what bombing had meant and what suffering and tragedy still existed in Britain.

"I am convinced," he said, "that they have a sort of smug complacency, and consider their duty is only to themselves, although there is, on the other hand, a thinking type of man in the United States who realizes the true situation."

To afford evidence that inflation already existed in the United States, Mr. Murray compared prices of ordinary services and goods.

"A charwoman in Edinburgh gets about five shillings a day," he said, "and in the United States it appears she gets five dollars. I went into an automat for a meal in the United States and it cost me $1.50. In a British restaurant it would have cost me only half a crown—50 cents. I don't know that at the end of the day, when it comes to spending his money, the American fireman, for instance, is any better off than the British fireman."

The British people would not want to borrow from the United States if it was not necessary in the interests of international trade, Mr. Murray said.

ANATHEMA TO SCOTS

"It's especially an anathema to the Scots to do this borrowing," he declared.

He pointed out that to repay the loan, the British people would have to work longer hours with a lower standard of living.

"There was such a great friendship between Roosevelt and Churchill," Mr. Murray said. "But it would be a great pity if now there is any disharmony between the two countries. The workman in Britain, now that he has come through the war, wants a few little luxuries, and I think the American workman would be willing to give them to him."

"It would be a great thing if we could get the voice of the people. I don't think the politicians will bring about the necessary understanding. I am a Conservative, but I must say I think the greatest hope for that understanding lies in labor."

Mr. Murray said American servicemen who had visited Scotland during the war were magnificent.

"They did their best to absorb our atmosphere. They mixed with our people. Those fellows know what conditions were like, and should be able to tell other Americans," he said.

As a tangible token of thanks from the British firefighters, Mr. Murray and fellow-members of the committee which came to thank the Canadian and American firefighters brought with them a replica of the plaque of the Guild Hall of London, carved from a beam of the Guild Hall which was presented last Saturday in Washington.

By PETE SALLAWAY

WITH THE OBJECT of promoting championship dog shows in leading cities of the province, on a scale never before attempted, the B.C. Kennel Club Ltd. with a $10,000 capitalization has been incorporated. From information received today, it is the plan of the new club to put on at least two shows a year in Victoria and Vancouver, with Duncan, Nanaimo and New Westminster as other possible locations for events. I have been led to believe the club will be willing to go into any city or town, on request, and promote a show. Right now the directors are working on plans to put on a three-day show at Vancouver next summer that they figure will attract in the neighborhood of 600 entries. Added attraction for the event will be the appearance of the leading judge in North America.

PROOF that a high-class dog show will attract big crowds was seen here last week-end when the two-day affair of the Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers' Association had an attendance figure of 4,000. If the show had been held in a building with greater accommodation for patrons that mark could easily have been doubled. In this regard I received an interesting letter today from a dog lover who elects to remain anonymous. He writes as follows: "May I enlist your support as an admirer of good dogs to have a larger place made available for shows than the Crystal Garden. In the first place it is dangerous to crowd so many people and dogs into such a small space. Then again, the dogs don't appreciate having so many strangers crowding close all the time. Saturday night an Irish setter snapped at me. I enjoy going to dog shows but there is no pleasure in not being able to walk around and being forced to stand up all night."

RECENTLY arrived back from overseas, Lloyd Cann, well-known Victoria baseball and football player, dropped into the office to give me some details on a soccer match played between teams representing the Canadians and British army at Aldershot. The Canadian team included eight players from British Columbia and four from Victoria. In addition to Cann, Victoria players were Bill McColl, Ken Jones, now a member of the V.M.D. club in the local league, who was captain, and Bobby Moss in goal. Other B.C. performers included H. G. Harrison, Frank Ambler, Jimmy Gold and G. E. Teasdale.

THE CANADIANS went up against a team that included 10 professionals, the goalie being the lone member who had not engaged in pro competition. In addition, three of the British players had won their international caps, Fagen and Armstrong for Scotland and Cunliffe for England. Other players had been with such noted clubs as Arsenal, Plymouth Argyle, Dundee and Bury. "We had the British team down 2 to 1 at one stage and they were really worried," Cann said. However, the Britishers rallied to finally win the match, 6 to 4.

Flying 'Y' Swimmers Invade Seattle for Intercity Gala

Coach Archie McKinnon will take a small squad of his best pool talent over to Seattle on Friday afternoon's boat to meet Washington Athletic Club aquatic performers Saturday afternoon in an intercity gala.

At a meeting of the Flying "Y" Swimming Club executive Sunday, a mixed team of 12 swimmers—five women and seven men—was chosen to represent Victoria against Rar's daughters' W.A.C. stars.

The team follows: Ina Salmon, backstroke and relay; Joan Morgan, backstroke and medley; Aileen Smyth, freestyle and backstroke; Jean Mills, freestyle and backstroke; Leslie Rimmer, freestyle and relay; Dick Bowden, backstroke and medleys; Peter Salmon, backstroke and medleys; Ken Hurn, freestyle and relays; Eric Jubb, backstroke and medleys; Jack Creedon, freestyle and relays, and Don Smyth, freestyle and relays.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Todd are also expected to make the trip. McKinnon has a powerful squad making the journey, but realizes his proteges will have to go their hardest because the Washington club is a tough proposition to beat in its own backyard.

this afternoon for Vancouver to attend the B.C. Section of the C.A.S.A. meeting in the mainland city. Important business is on the agenda. Dates for all provincial meets will probably be set and lengthy discussion should be the order on the coming Canadian championships to be held next summer.

The Flying "Y" Victoria club will again be busy on the following Saturday—Feb. 23—when its strongest string invades Vancouver to shoot for laurels in the British Columbia championship gala in the Crystal Pool.

Oak Bay Victors In Football Final

A goal from the boot of Prieswick late in the first half broke a one-goal deadlock to give Oak Bay High School footballers a 2 to 1 victory over Mount View High School and the Greater Victoria high schools' soccer championship when they battled in the final Tuesday at Windsor Park.

The two teams in this struggle played fast, good ball throughout.

The bootwork that did the scoring all came in the first canto, Oak Bay's Danny Pratt made the first impression on the scoreboard. Mount View evened up shortly after when John Matthews, the team captain, registered. Prieswick's goal provided the winning margin for Oak Bay.

There was no scoring in the final session as the teams worked hard to improve their scoring at top speed. The good attendance of fans present enjoyed this action by young soccer players. The trophy was presented to "Tubby" Yates, Oak Bay captain, following the game.

$50,000 Handicap Saturday Draws Racing Bluebloods

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — The $50,000 San Antonio handicap at a mile and a furlong Saturday at Santa Anita Park, has drawn 24 nominees, racing secretary Webb Everett announced today.

First Fiddle, Bull Reigh and Sirde may be assigned high weights, but several likely starters are rounding into form, any of which might bounce into the winner's circle.

Included is Miss Ethel Hill's War Knight, which made his first start in more than two years last Saturday and was beaten less than a length and one half by Paperboy, which ran the seven furlongs in 1:22 4/5. Paperboy, from the Warner-Leroy Ranch, may be reaching his winning form of two years ago. Last week's victory was his first in two years and was so unexpected he paid $64.40.

Mrs. George Poulsen's Broadcloth; Snowboots, the likely favorite and entry with Sirde from Mrs. A. L. Rice's stable; Supro, undefeated in four starts here and pride of the Foxcatcher Farms stable; and Be Faithful, L. B. Mayer's fast-stepping filly who has won three straight marathons, are among the nominees.

Others are Autocrat, Best Effort, Eric A. Bac, Challenge Me, Castleman, First to Fight, Man O' Glory, Mediterranean, Lou-Bre, Old English, Post Graduate, Texas Sanderman, Whirlabout, Wise Eagle and Stitch Again.

The San Antonio is for three-year-olds and up.

Goalie Mowers Sensational In Services Hockey Overseas

LONDON (CP)—Memo to general John Adams, manager of Detroit Red Wings in the National Hockey League: Don't sell Johnny Mowers short.

The 190-pound goalkeeper, property of the Wings before he joined the R.C.A.F., is easily the standout performer of the Canadian Services Hockey League. The leading airman's playing is sensational.

Mainstay with the R.C.A.F. Down Ampney team, United Kingdom services champion, Johnny now is with Odiham R.C.A.F. station in the newly-organized Canadian Armed Forces League. In his spare time he plays as "guest star" with Wembley Lions.

The service clubs have many former N.H.L. players on their lineups, and the games are bitterly contested.

A sample of the keen rivalry was demonstrated at a recent army Bruins-Odiham Hurricanes game before 10,000 fans at Wembley.

FIGHT SEEN Supervisor Pete Kelly, formerly of the Wings, suffered a broken leg when he was accidentally tripped by big Eddie Bush, property of the Wings. Given a penalty on the play, Bush tossed his stick across the ice and frayed tempers resulted in hockey precedent a moment later when Mowers tangled with Johnny Giesbrecht, also on the Wings payroll.

They discarded their sticks and traded gloved punches from the goalmouth to the blue line before order was restored.

Mowers' best performance this year was seen at the all-star R.C.A.F. Army game which the air force lost 7 to 6. The dark-haired 28-year old netminder did everything but eat the puck and for the 60 minutes showed Wembley fans, many of them Canadian service personnel, just why he had been rated as one of the best goalkeepers in the N.H.L.

Mowers, a native of Niagara Falls, Ont., probably won't be home for the Stanley Cup playoffs, but it will be hard to keep him out of the nets as the Wings' first-string goalie next season.

The four top teams of the National Hockey League go into action against each other tonight with the possibility that Montreal Canadiens may regain their old place at the head of the standing.

Canadiens travel to Chicago, and Detroit Red Wings play at Boston in tonight's encounters. At the moment, Chicago holds a single-point lead over Montreal and Boston, tied for second place. Detroit remains seven points back, in fourth place.

Apart from tonight's battles, chief interest centres on the meeting of the N.H.L. board of governors, opening in New York Thursday. The lengthy list of business includes the appeal of Babe Pratt, Toronto defenceman, against his suspension on charges of gambling.

Pratt was suspended by the N.H.L. and the Toronto Maple Leafs two weeks ago for gambling, although the announcement by President Mervyn Dutton made it plain there was no accusation that Pratt had gambled against his own team. Pratt will exercise his right to appeal to the board meeting at New York.

CURFEW LIFTED

A rearranged schedule to cover New York Ranger home games—was removed from the governor's list of business last night when the New York curfew was lifted. This was a fuel-saving edict resulting from the tugmen's strike, which had closed the city's entertainment industry as from midnight Sunday night.

The New York curfew had raised the possibility that Madison Square Gardens, like thousands of other New York amusement centres, would be kept in darkness, with the Rangers scheduled to entertain Boston on Thursday and the Canadiens on Sunday. However, the order was lifted last night.

Dutton listed these main items for discussion at tomorrow's meeting:

1. Playoff arrangements.
2. Constitution agreements.
3. The Pratt case.
4. Application of Len Peto of Montreal for the old Montreal Maroons franchise, at present held by the Canadian Arena Company of Montreal.

Dutton said there would be no statement made concerning the Pratt gambling case before the governors have reached their decision and he did not know when this might be. First day of the meeting, however, is expected to be devoted to playoff arrangements.

17-Point Parking Program Would Improve City Traffic

Continued increase in motor traffic in the city requires drastic reductions and control of curb parking spaces, Police Chief John A. McLellan told a meeting of the Police Commission Tuesday afternoon.

In making 17 recommendations in this regard, the chief said that as far as possible, the right of vehicles to the use of a public street should be granted in the following order of importance: First, to moving vehicles; second, to vehicles loading or unloading passengers or merchandise, and third, to parked cars.

His recommendations, which will be studied by the commission and discussed at a special meeting Saturday, prior to them being submitted to the City Council for consideration at its next sitting, follow:

1. Immediate consideration be given to the installation of parking meters in the central business area.

FLASHING SIGNALS

2. Installation of flashing caution signals at Hillside and Douglas; Quadra and Hillside; Pandora and Cook; Oak Bay Junction; Humboldt and Douglas; Fairfield and Moss; Yates and Port; Flanagan and Government. (Also one to be attached to a traffic signal now located at Quadra and Pandora.)

3. Making of both sides of each block of the congested business area into loading zones, marked by fixed standards designating them as such; vehicles to occupy them only while loading and unloading.

4. Parallel parking be made compulsory on Flanagan Street, between Store and Blanshard; Cormorant between Government and Blanshard; Yates, south side from Langley to Government; Yates, both sides, Douglas to Blanshard; Douglas, both sides, Herald to Belleville.

5. Parking to be prohibited between 10.30 in the morning to 6 in the evening on Broad Street, east side, between Broughton and View, except for commercial vehicles unloading and loading; and View Street, north side between Douglas and Broad.

6. Parking to be prohibited at all times on Bastion Street between Government and Langley; Langley, west side between Fort and Courtney; Courtney, south side between Government and Wharf.

BUS LOADING

7. Loading zones for buses be made at Douglas Street, west side, south of Yates; Douglas, west side, south of Fort; Yates, north side, west of Blanshard; Yates, south side, east of Douglas.

8. Prohibited areas be established on Blanshard Street, east side, south of View, 20 feet and east side, north of View, 30 feet, and west side, south of View, 30 feet, and west side, north of Broughton, 20 feet; Pembroke Street, east of Quadra, both sides, 30 feet; Pandora Avenue, south side, east of Chambers, 75 feet, and north side, west of Chambers, 30 feet, and south lane between Quadra and Cook, north side, also 30 feet of south side of north lane east of Quadra.

9. Widening of pedestrian lanes and dividing of them by a middle line with a directional sign painted on each half, "Keep to the Right."

10. Spaces for the parking of cars parallel to the curb be marked off with painted lines, 20 feet by seven feet.

TRAFFIC BUTTONS

11. Removal of traffic buttons from centre of intersections, and replacing of them with four buttons, one at each side of intersection; this to be done at all places where buttons are used.

12. Marking of traffic lanes on principal streets of business section.

13. Designating of Pandora Avenue between Quadra and Cook Streets on the south side of the grass plot, a one-way street proceeding east.

14. Introducing of two-hour parking on Belleville Street, south side, between Menzies and Government.

15. Changing of parking areas in business district controlled by one-hour parking to three-quarters-of-an-hour parking.

16. Changing of parking areas in the business district controlled by two-hour parking, to one-and-one-half-hour parking.

17. Prohibiting of left-hand turns while traffic signals are in operation on Douglas Street at Pandora, Johnson, Yates, View and Fort Streets.

MUST AMEND ACT

Regarding his recommendation that parking meters be installed, the chief asked that the city council seek, immediately, the power to install them. An amendment to the Municipal Act would be necessary, he pointed out.

Councillor Burgess J. Gadsden thought the parking meters were a good idea but it would be necessary "to get the Chamber of Commerce on our side" before any action was taken. It was the Chamber, he said, that "bucked" the meters when the question arose at an earlier date.

Chief McLellan replied that he thought that most people had changed their ideas regarding the meters, and now realized the value of installing them.

ADVANTAGE TO MERCHANTS

In his plea for support of the recommendations, the chief said a solution to the parking problem was of advantage, not only to motorists, but to merchants.

"When traffic in a district is congested because of improper parking, customers will shop elsewhere and business may become decentralized—a costly result for merchants," he said. "Moving vehicles, rather than parked cars, bring business to a commercial area."

DECK PARKING STRUCTURE

"Now is the time to make plans for an open wall parking structure with two or three decks above the ground and additional parking space below ground," he continued. "An off-street parking structure of this kind located within the business area, with a view to bringing the traffic down town and moving it out again, is the alternative to a decline in the central business district."

"We are of the opinion that a reduction in the one-hour parking area to three-quarters of an hour, and a reduction of the two-hours parking area to one and a half hours, together with strict enforcement throughout the area, would give considerable increase in space hours."

"A further increase in capacity would be obtained if the practice of office employees being sent out to move several parked cars was eliminated."

"It is felt also that the Dominion and provincial government heads might be approached with a view to making arrangements for off-street parking for their employees' cars."

Traffic Mishaps Kill 5 Last Year

"The accident situation is grave," said Police Chief John A. McLellan when pointing out in his annual report to the Police Commission Tuesday afternoon that five persons lost their lives and 186 were injured in traffic mishaps during 1945.

There were 558 written reports of automobile accidents during the year compared with 427 during 1944, he said.

"No doubt," he said, "the increase in accidents is accounted for by the greater volume of traffic on the streets and the worn-out condition of motor vehicles."

Charge 106 Youths In Court Last Year

Of 106 youths charged in juvenile court in the city during 1945, 26 were residents of outside municipalities or other provinces who had come to Victoria and committed the offences, the Police Commission was informed by Police Chief John A. McLellan at a meeting Tuesday afternoon.

"Statistics do not disclose a more than usually serious juvenile crime situation," he said in his report for last year, "although there was an increase in the number of thefts of cars, breaking and entering, and stealing."

Breaking and entering and theft of automobiles accounted for 65 of the charges divided between 56 juveniles.

Plan to Organize Victoria Branch Of Cancer Society

Plans to organize a Victoria branch of the Canadian Cancer Society, and the need for local organization were outlined Tuesday evening by Mrs. Jean Pierce, national secretary of the Canadian Cancer Society, speaking to a group of about 100 in the City Hall chamber.

The meeting was organized by the city health department at the request of the Local Council of Women, the Catholic Women's League, and the Ladies' Orange League, with Dr. Richard Felton, medical health officer, in the chair.

Because of the higher life expectancy, and more accurate medical diagnosis, the cancer death rate is steadily climbing in medical statistics, Mrs. Pierce indicated, until it now holds the place as the second highest cause of death in Canada, following heart diseases.

She stressed that while many aspects of cancer are not yet understood, particularly the factor which turns formerly normal human body cells into malignant cancer cells, yet the medical profession has devised cures which will touch fully half the cancer cases and cure them, where the disease is caught in its early stages.

It is the function of the Canadian Cancer Society, she declared, to carry education about the early symptoms of the dread disease, which is neither infectious nor contagious. Into every corner of the community.

A Canada-wide education campaign along these lines is being planned for April, she said, and it is hoped that local societies will be organized in time to carry the campaign. Dr. Felton stated that a provisional committee of seven had been set up Tuesday to carry on the initial work, and that shortly there would be a membership drive inaugurated in Victoria.

Already research has revealed 50 substances which are known to cause cancer, she said, and this research is proceeding all over the world.

Mrs. Pierce urged again and again the necessity for the individual to have frequent consultations with the family physician, particularly if any of the early symptoms of cancer were present. Four of the early symptoms which she outlined were: (1) Any irregular discharge from any body opening; (2) any sore which did not heal after two or three weeks; (3) persistent lump in any part of the body; or (4) a constant cough which did not clear up within a matter of two or three weeks.

Saanich Favors B.C. Government Paying All Education Costs

Saanich Council Tuesday night endorsed a resolution from the township of Langley, B.C., implying dissatisfaction with the Cameron Report and calling for the B.C. government "to assume 100 per cent of the cost of education in the province."

If the Cameron Report was carried out, the mainland town's letter pointed out, it would only mean a minor relief for landowners in the way of taxation. The council voiced emphatic objection to the splitting of Saanich into two parts for education purposes only. If a split of this nature was planned the council wanted to know why it was not intended for all services instead of one.

Reeve A. G. Lambriek and Councillors John Oliver, Robert Noble and J. W. Casey were appointed a committee to go before the Department of Education and Department of Municipal Affairs to air the question of dividing Saanich for education along with the municipality's amalgamation and secession movements. Norman Whittaker, M.L.A. for Saanich, will be acquainted with the council's action.

Saanich had not been consulted in the establishment of a dividing line, Reeve Lambriek said, also noting the B.C. government had failed to appoint a fact-finding commission to delve into the matter of cutting Saanich in two from the viewpoint of all services.

The dividing line proposed in Saanich runs from the north end of Mount Douglas Park to the line between Victoria District and the Lake District, to East Saanich Road to Glenford Avenue, along Mann Avenue to the westerly boundary of Sec. 38, then north to the boundary line between Wards Four and Five and following that line westward to the municipal boundary.

The split would place Wards One, Two, Three and Seven and practically all of Ward Four in the Greater Victoria school district. Wards Five, Six and a small part of Ward Four would be included in North Saanich school district, which also takes in James Island.

$1,464 Bid On Police Station Oil Heating System Accepted

A tender from W. R. Menzies and Company to install an oil heating system at the City Police Station at a cost of $1,464, was accepted by the Police Commission at a meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The cost included installation of a 1,000-gallon fuel storage tank in an alley outside the station, provided no rock was struck in the excavating for the tank. In this case, the city would have to bear the cost of removing the rock.

The oil heating system would serve adequately a building twice the size of the police station, it was pointed out when the question of proposed expansion of the

Visions Increase In City Taxes If Estimates Stand

"We must cut down on estimates or the promise that the mill rate will not be increased will fall by the wayside," said Mayor Percy George to members of the Police Commission during discussion of the 1946 police budget at a meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The Mayor said he visioned an increase in the tax rate by at least four mills in preliminary surveys of estimates from the various city departments. "All of them are up," he said, "and we must do something to pare them down."

The police estimates as submitted by the Police Chief were over $30,000 higher than those of last year. This figure was cut down considerably, after lengthy discussion by the commissioners on each item.

Salaries of members of the force who had returned from service in the Navy, Army and Air Force, and also of additional members of the force, made up the largest amount of the increase in the estimates. These figures could not be cut down, but other costs, one of which was included in a proposal to install a public address system at the Yates and Douglas intersection to educate pedestrians on traffic regulations, were removed from the estimates.

Crime Picture In City Satisfactory

Greater activity in the traffic department of the city police force was responsible for an increase in police court convictions from 2,943 in 1944 to 3,977 in 1945, said Police Chief John A. McLellan in his annual report received by the police commission Tuesday afternoon. Acceptance of the report was left until the next meeting to give commissioners time to study it thoroughly.

Of the number of convictions last year, 2,638 were city by-law infractions compared with 1,783 in 1944. Fines and costs were higher, amounting to $30,958.84 last year compared with $26,328.74 in the year previous.

Major crimes of the year were two murders, those of Phyllis Stroud, an 18-year-old school girl, and Sunda Singh, an 80-year-old Hindu.

"The general crime situation has been satisfactory," the chief said. "There was an increase in common assault and in possession of stolen property, but fewer cases of actual theft and breaking and entering against adults. The increase in breaking and entering was accounted for by youths under the age of 18. There were no bawdy house cases in 1945. Twenty-five persons were committed for trial in higher courts, as against the previous year."

Joint Transit Plan Meets With Approval

Whole-hearted endorsement was given the combined B.C. Electric Railway Co. and Vancouver Island Coach Lines offer to operate a Greater Victoria unified transportation system, by Saanich Council meeting Tuesday night in the Royal Oak Municipal Hall.

A letter was read from the two companies asking for Saanich Council's support of the joint operation plan and council members heralded it as "a piece of wonderful news."

"It is a step in the right direction," one councillor declared. Councillor Thomas Alexander labeled it as "a plan that will be a great help to Saanich."

Reeve A. G. Lambriek was of the opinion a scheme such as offered by the two companies would definitely put Saanich on the transportation map of the greater city area.

The letter was referred to the Greater Victoria Transportation Committee "with our approval," and, said Councillor George Austin, "with our blessings."

Saanich Library Subscribers to Pay Increased Levy

Victoria library service to ratepayers of Saanich in 1946 will cost $1.15, instead of the previous yearly levy of $1, it was decided at Tuesday night's meeting of the Saanich Council. The increase was found to be necessary, due to the council going "in the hole" $1,500 last year on the service. As a referendum on the question would cost in the neighborhood of $400 to $500, it was thought a vote on the question would be too expensive. However, a plebiscite on the matter will be held at the end of the year elections.

F. S. Green, municipal assessor, reported that 23 of the 50 $1 lots set aside for war veterans who saw active service in the European theatre had been purchased. He reported that 50 lots had also been set aside for Victoria veterans who served in the Pacific theatre, but as the Japanese war ended before a heavy local contribution of servicemen could be sent to participate, the council decided to consolidate the two. This leaves 77 $1 lots left, exclusively for veterans, including any servicemen who have seen active service, but are still in uniform.

The council adopted the City of Victoria resolution that the secretary of the B.C. Municipalities be asked to consider applying to the next session of the provincial Legislature for an amendment to the firemen's Two Platoon Act, to bring in a 48-hour week for firemen under the Three Platoon system.

Councillors William Kersey and J. W. Casey were given voting powers on the Greater Victoria Amalgamation Committee. While more members of the council can sit in on the committee operations, only two will have voting powers.

Decision was made to zone the land south of Douglas Street 200 feet on either side of the C.N.R. tracks from Kelvin Road to Bole-sline Road, as sites for light industry. Views of residents in the area will be heard on the question following announcement of the by-law in the local press.

Fire Chief Joseph Law's January report revealed his department had attended 16 fire alarms, which included 12 chimney fires, one building and one rubbish fire. The report also stated two 600-gallon A.R.P. tanks had been put in the Saanich Agricultural Grounds for the fire force.

Application of Mrs. N. J. Anderson, Prospect Lake P.O., for a kennel license to raise cocker spaniels on Goward Road was referred to the building inspector with power to act.

H. Nicolls, Cordova Bay P.O.,

asked for permission to build boats on the bay waterfront. He will have to make application to the zoning board.

Reeve A. G. Lambriek's motion that a permit be granted J. W. Johnston to erect a combination grocery store and dwelling on the corner of Obed Avenue and Tith-cum Road was granted.

Application of K. M. Lewis, Cordova Bay, on behalf of the church committee of St. David's Church, to build a church on a site in the bay area, was referred to the zoning board.

Council will write the Victoria Electrical Contractors' Association and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers to go thoroughly into the matter of a board of examiners being set up to examine all electricians as to their ability to carry out electrical work properly. Fire caused by defective wiring was a menace to the community, a combined letter from the two groups pointed out.

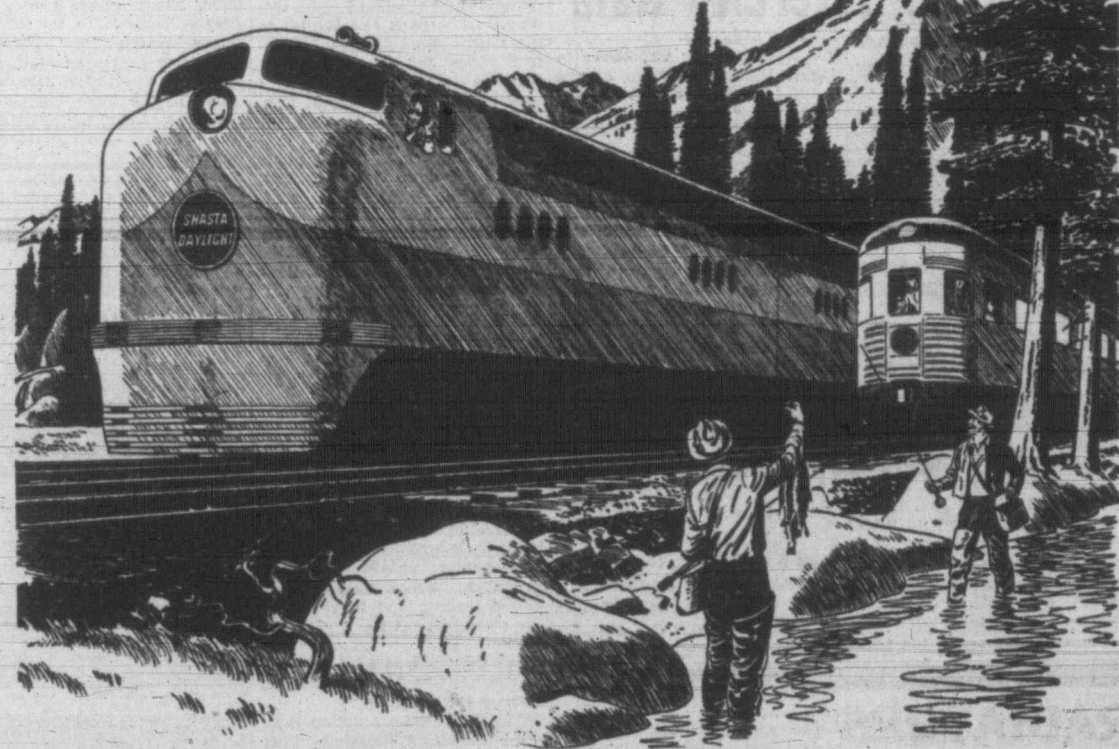

Application of Kenneth S. Page to buy lots on Gore Avenue, south Saanich district, for the $250 assessed value, was approved.

OTTAWA (CP)—Great Britain whose external liabilities skyrocketed from $2,000,000,000 in 1939 to $14,500,000,000 in 1945, expects a deficit of more than $5,000,000,000 on current account during the next three years, Sir Wilfrid Eady, joint treasury secretary of the British Treasury, said here.

Southern Pacific is happy to announce that plans are under way for the

between Portland and San Francisco

Two brand new custom-built streamlined trains for daily daylight service. CASCADE will be streamlined!

THIS IS IT! This is the announcement we had to postpone through four long years of war.

We are happy to tell our friends in the Pacific Northwest that plans are under way for the first streamlined in Southern Pacific's postwar program—the Shasta Daylights. We promise you that we will spare no expense to make these the finest and most luxurious streamlined coach trains ever constructed—the Pacific Northwest's Own Trains!

Leaving Portland and San Francisco in the morning and arriving in the late evening, the Shasta Daylights will speed daily in each direction over Southern Pacific's famous Shasta Route—certainly one of the most magnificent scenic trips in all the world.

Each seat on the Shasta Daylights will have its own individual window, and these windows will be of unique design—much taller than the windows on any other train. Through these enormous windows you will see the lovely Willamette Valley, the rugged Cascade Mountains, Odell Lake and Diamond Peak, Mt. Shasta and the vast lake behind Shasta Dam, California's Sacramento Valley.

Aboard the Shasta Daylights, travelers from all over the world will enjoy a close-up grandstand view of the wonders of the Pacific Northwest. The trains will, we think, be a fine advertisement for the region.

With our companion Daylights between San Francisco and Los Angeles, the Shasta Daylights will enable tourists to see almost the entire Pacific Coast in the traditional comfort and luxury of these famous streamliners created by Southern Pacific.

Fast, powerful diesel-electric locomotives will smoothly pull the Shasta Daylights. The exteriors will be brilliantly streamlined in red, orange and black. The interior color schemes will be inspired by the soft blues, greens and browns of Pacific Northwest's lakes, rivers and forests. The Shasta Daylights will have every modern refinement in comfort and service that we and the builders can conceive. Above all, they will be safe, solidly built and dependable.

We have given our ideas to the designers of the car building companies, who are now working out the details and technical specifications. As soon as bids are received, we will place orders for actual construction of the Shasta Daylights for delivery, we expect, before the end of the year.

A faster streamlined CASCADE

Our plans include streamlining the Cascade, making it a deluxe overnight sleeping car train between Portland and San Francisco. Based on designs now being worked out, orders will be placed for triple unit articulated cars for the Cascade—each unit consisting of a lounge car, a dining car and a kitchen car. (If you have ridden our famous Lark between San Francisco and Los Angeles you know how stunningly beautiful these three-car units are. The dining car and lounge are one continuous room 131 feet long, with no partition between the cars. They are the only cars of this kind in America.)

As fast as the manufacturers can deliver new streamlined sleeping cars they will be placed in service on the Cascade. This, we hope, will be early in 1947. The Cascade, as well as other trains, will be speeded up as soon as the present heavy traffic load eases, and before we receive the new equipment.

U.S. To Push for Larger Canadian Timber Export

Increasing the export of raw logs from B.C. to the United States is contrary to the policy of the provincial government but final jurisdiction rests at the present time with the Dominion government which controls timber exports by wartime measures.

Today in Washington, D.C., Representative H. M. Jackson, Democrat from Washington state, announced he would seek co-operation of the U.S. state department in his campaign to influence Canada to release more timber exports to the United States.

Under Dominion government timber control regulations in force at the present time about 15 per cent of the total Canadian timber output is made available for export to the U.S. Bulk of the remainder is designated for domestic use and for export to the United Kingdom.

Several times previously western U.S. senators and representatives have moved to have Canadian restrictions on timber exports to the U.S. removed.

Representative Jackson wants the U.S. state department to request Canada to remove the wartime embargo against U.S. mill owners bringing timber they own in Canada to the United States. Before the war some American mill owners purchased timber in Canada with the understanding the Dominion would permit the logs to be exported to the United States, he said.

"The logs are badly needed now that the supply of raw material for lumber is so short," Mr. Jackson said. "The American owners of the Canadian timber think the embargo should be lifted and I shall ask the state department this week to request Canada to do so. It would do much toward alleviating the shortage of lumber for our housing program and I hope Canada will accede to our request."

ALSO SHORTAGE HERE
B.C. Forest Service authorities here pointed out that there is a timber shortage in Canada as well as in the U.S.

While some of the American-held timber in British Columbia was purchased by American sawmill companies, some is held by speculators who hoped to realize profit in resale of their holdings.

The question of exporting raw logs was dealt with by Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan in his report on the forest resources of B.C. which was published last week.

The Royal Commissioner pointed out that while the Dominion government has exclusive control of international trade and commerce, the province can, however, impose terms and conditions on purchasers of Crown timber. In some instances the B.C. government in its contracts has imposed terms limiting the export of logs cut on Crown lands.

The chief justice pointed out that while export of raw logs did provide employment in B.C. more employment and revenue were produced if the logs were manufactured in the province.

Town Topics

Lieut. F. Briers of the Victoria Fire Department gave a demonstration of the newly-acquired inhalator to residents of Shawnigan Lake area in Shawnigan Lake Athletic Association Hall Monday evening.

The Monday night meeting of Victoria College Council discussed the 1946 budget for the college. President N. A. M. MacKenzie of the University of B.C., and W. H. Gage, representing Dean D. Buchanan, attended the meeting from Vancouver.

Twenty-two motorists each were fined $2.50 in city police court today on parking violation charges. Two were fined $5 each for driving without licenses. One was fined $5 for not making a hand signal when turning, and one man fined $10 for speeding in a school zone.

C. E. Brown was elected president of the Pacific Club at the annual meeting, held Tuesday night. T. L. Sturgess was elected vice-president, and members of the executive committee are D. R. Anderson, P. W. Bell, Howard Harmon, Harold Francis and F. Meston.

Bernard Cross was fined $30 and his driver's license was suspended for two months when he pleaded guilty in city police court today to a dangerous driving charge. The charge arose when Cross was placed at speeds up to 50 miles an hour on Esquimalt Road, which was icy at the time, policemen testified.

A pedestrian, Joseph Richmond, 945 Yates street, was treated at Jubilee Hospital for head and back injuries received when knocked down by a car at Pandora Avenue and Vancouver Streets at 6:25 Tuesday evening. City police said the driver of the car was Ronald R. Mitchell, 1358 Monterey Avenue, who was travelling west on Pandora when the accident took place.

Building permits were issued to A. B. Markill to construct a greenhouse for non-commercial purposes at 750 Pemberton Road, $900; to Wilson and Cabeld to build a garage at 919 Yates Street, $3,200; to Mr. and Mrs. A. Old Boys will get together to discuss various matters in connection with the school. In Victoria a gathering of Old Boys will be held at the residence of Lt. Col. Eric Pepler, 1006 St. Charles Street, at 5 Saturday.

L. G. Stewart was sentenced to seven days in jail and his driver's license was suspended for six months by Magistrate Henry C. Hall in city police court today on a charge of being in charge of a car while intoxicated. Sgt. John Howe and Constable Walter Caldwell of the city police testified Stewart backed a truck away from the curb at Yates and Blanshard Streets last Monday evening, and was about to drive away when he was stopped. Stewart said he backed the car up but had no intention of driving away. He was going to wait for the owner to come and drive him home because he knew he was not in a condition to drive himself.

Legion Branch Asks Airport Development

Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion, went on record Tuesday night as favoring immediate development of an airport at Gordon Head.

Further support for the demand that a Gordon Head airport be established, is expected to arise from a meeting of former R.C.A.F. officers Thursday evening in the city council chamber. The purpose of the meeting primarily is to organize an R.C.A.F. ex-officers' association, but a discussion of the airport proposals will start at 7.30, half an hour before the main meeting.

Opposition to the proposal that an airport should be located at Gordon Head, taking in Gordon Head military camp, has come chiefly from Saanich residents in the neighborhood of the suggested site.

Ship in Drydock

Work on the vessel will be done by men from Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd. The ship is due to leave the drydock Saturday for V.M.D. yards where work will be completed. It is estimated work on the vessel will take eight days.

Warren Says Rotary Will Play Important Part In World Affairs

Belief that Rotary will play an important part in the rehabilitation of formerly occupied countries in Europe was expressed here today by T. A. Warren, president of Rotary International.

Rotary has already been re-established in France, Holland, Belgium, Norway and Finland, he said. It did not cease to exist in Norway. The organization is about to go back to Greece and Rotary International has been approached regarding re-establishment of clubs in Italy and Austria.

Mr. Warren said Rotary members had met secretly in Europe during the war years and, in many instances, had done so under the guise of bridge parties and athletic meetings.

He doubted, however, re-establishment of Rotary in Germany would be brought about soon. Rotary needs a government allowing freedom of the individual and freedom of speech, in order to operate, he said.

However, there has been strong pressure from some of the leaders of the Allied armies seeking re-establishment of Rotary in Germany.

Mr. Warren also believes Rotary could and would, play an important part in the affairs of the world and in maintenance of peace. The club has at present 5,600 clubs in 70 different nations and has a membership of 260,000. Three Rotary observers have been appointed by Mr. Warren to sit in on discussions at United Nations Organization meetings.

These observers, said Mr. Warren, make contact with delegates and in turn report to Rotary International headquarters, advising it how Rotary can best serve the purpose of U.N.O.

With all this knowledge brought to members of Rotary, and the organization's survey of the different needs of the various areas in which clubs were established, Mr. Warren is convinced members would be able to do much in the service of peace and rehabilitation.

"I believe Rotary is the finest non-governmental help in the world as regards support for the U.N.O.," Mr. Warren stated. Rotary stood solidly behind the United Nations charter drawn up in San Francisco.

OPEN DIPLOMACY
Mr. Warren also admired the development of open diplomacy between nations. He believed it was a sign of great promise, and pointed out such an development presented a world forum so people of the world could make their own judgment on conditions.

Mr. Warren was director of education for Wolverhampton, Eng., for 25 years until his retirement in April, 1945, when he

Victoria Escapes 'Flu Epidemic'

Victoria has thus far escaped the 'flu epidemic which has hit several Canadian cities in the east, and which is threatening England, doctors said today.

Asked about the onset of an epidemic of colds, Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, assistant medical health officer and school doctor, said that to date only the "normal number of winter colds" have affected Victorians generally.

However, the doctors are not discounting the possibility that an epidemic might hit at any time, and are keeping careful watch on the situation, remembering the disaster of the 'flu epidemic which followed World War I.

Maternity Wing Fund $11,000 Short of Mark

Denis Hagar, Kiwanis president, said today subscriptions now amount to more than $29,000 in the Kiwanis campaign to raise $40,000 for completion of the new maternity wing of Royal Jubilee Hospital.

"The campaign is really going now, and will continue until the objective is reached. We should have the $40,000 by the end of the week," Mr. Hagar said.

He urged all canvassers to turn in their collections as soon as possible.

61,244 Insane People in Canada—Sterilization Urged

Canada must enforce a sterilization law or else expect a deterioration of her people. In 1932 there were 35,279 mental cases—today there are 61,244.

"Here is a typical example why sterilization of the mentally unfit, is very necessary for the future of Canada. In 1879 a sub-normal man and woman were married in Toronto. They had many descendants and up to date 31 members of the third generation have been traced. Of these 31 members, seven are mentally deficient, one is insane, one is epileptic, one is psychopathic and six are addicted to alcohol. Twenty-seven of the 31 have had delinquency records and 10 have been on public relief.

"Sterilize the Unfit," by Clarence M. Hincks, M.D., is an article appearing in the Maclean Magazine, Feb. 15, now on sale at all magazine dealers. Macleans is distributed on Vancouver Island by Lovick's News Agency, Victoria, B.C. **

British Suppress Riots in Calcutta

CALCUTTA (CP) — British troops quieted rioting Hindus and Moslems in Calcutta today as the city's second outbreak of destruction within 2½ months subsided after a toll of at least 22 dead and more than 200 injured. The soldiers were in complete control of the city.

The troops were called in Tuesday night after Robert G. Casey, Governor of Bengal, had declared in a broadcast: "The situation is such that I have asked the army to come to the assistance of the civil power in order that order may be restored in Calcutta as quickly as possible."

(Earlier Associated Press dispatches had erroneously interpreted Mr. Casey's statement as a declaration of martial law.)

Many of the city's shopping districts today were scenes of destruction. The transportation system remained paralyzed.

Business establishments and homes of Europeans bore the brunt of the rioters' attack.

The rioting was in protest against the seven-year sentence passed on an officer of the Japanese-sponsored "Indian National Army."

6-POINT PLAN FOR HOME BUILDERS

With today's tremendous demand for building materials, only those families who plan ahead will be able to take advantage of materials when they become available. To help prospective home builders J-M suggests this practical 6-Point Plan.

Here are the steps! (1) Choose the location, (2) Decide on the type and size of house you want, (3) Discuss your plans with your J-M dealer—he'll help you pick an architect or builder, if you wish; (4) Consult your dealer about new building materials that will make your house more livable, more economical, (5) Arrange estimates and financing, (6) Decide on equipment, color schemes and furniture.

Since every one of these steps must be taken before building begins, this plan can help you speed the work—give you a better, more satisfactory finished job.

Hospital for Sale

PORT ALBERNI — Mayor W. C. Hamilton has been notified by the War Assets Corporation, Montreal, that the city may purchase the military hospital and nurses' home at the army camp here, together with about four acres of land on which the buildings are situated for $12,771.52, or about eight per cent of the original cost.

When the city has completed the purchase, it is understood the hospital building will be sold to Blodet, Stewart & Welch, who will use it as emergency housing for the men to be employed in the new pulp mill here.

Soviet Newspapers Draw Comparison

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet newspaper headlines gave Russian readers this picture of conditions in foreign countries today:

"Strike movement in Brazil."

"Shinwell on lack of coal in England."

"Grave food situation in India."

"Strikes in U.S.A. London reports mayor Pittsburgh said situation becoming critical."

"Unemployment in Canada. Unemployed reach 223,000."

"Unprecedented floods in England. London reports it has engulfed one-third of entire territory of England."

"Two million Philadelphians walk in transport strike."

By comparison, Russian newspapers have carried stories that there are no strikes in the Soviet Union, factories are turning out more consumer goods, the fuel situation is on the upgrade, there is no unemployment, and transport plane construction. Stalin has announced that food rationing was to end soon.

'Molly and Me' To Show at York

It's laughter with a new twist!
Song with a new lilt! It's happiness every blessed moment!

That's the way enthusiastic preview audiences acclaimed
"Molly and Me," the new laugh riot, starring Gracie Fields, Monty Woolley and Roddy Mc-Dowall, and scheduled to open tomorrow at the York Theatre.

Together again for the first time since their never-to-be-forgotten hilarity hit, "Holy Matrimony," Gracie Fields and Monty Woolley, the screen's top fun team, cross swords and romance in what the critics are saying is the love-and-laugh smash of the year.

Monty Woolley plays the part of a wealthy Englishman, driven into seclusion by a marital scandal, wants nothing more than to be left alone. Gracie is seen as an unemployed musical comedy "second lead" who, bored
by hunger, wrangles a job as Monty's housekeeper.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA
THEATRES
"Madonna of the Seven Moons," latest Gainsborough film starring Phyllis Calvert, Stewart Granger and Patricia Roc, is the first film to be produced with a woman suffering from schizophrenia or dual personality as its central character, and, based upon a factual case as it is, the film, which is showing at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, is likely to arouse great interest and discussion both in the medical profession and the general public.

The DOCTOR Says:

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

LOWER HEAD OF FADING PERSON

Faulty circulation of blood in the brain is responsible for fainting. An attack can be prevented by sitting down and leaning forward or by putting the head on the knees, but when loss of consciousness occurs, the body is best placed in a horizontal position with the head lowered.

Good circulation in the brain depends on forceful contractions of the heart, sufficient blood, and proper filling of the vessels.
Patients with heart disease may faint because of feebleness of heart action; hemorrhage can cause fainting from insufficient blood, or there may be a faulty blood distribution in the system from standing or nervousness.

Nausea, belching, and vomiting may precede the fainting attacks, and yawning, dizziness, and abdominal disturbances are often noted. Patient feels as though he should lie down, and may do so no matter where he is. Some persons faint so rapidly there are no warning signs.

The face is as white as death, and the skin is usually covered with cold sweat; numbness develops in various parts of the body as everything seems to turn black. As the victim sinks to the floor, apparently some consciousness is present, even though the eyes are closed. With recovery of muscle control, patient is able to rise although some persons remain pale and weak for some time.

FIRST AID VALUABLE
Fainting is the most frequent condition requiring first aid. It is more common in adolescents and among females, but it may occur in either sex at any age.
Usually the tendency to faint disappears with maturity.

One form of fainting originates
in the brain from nervous shock.
Some persons who witness a serious accident in which there is bloodshed may faint without any other reason. Thoughts of a disagreeable experience may cause another person to faint.

One adult out of every 200 faints
when he acts as a blood donor, probably from nervous reasons.

BATHE FACE IN COLD WATER

It is possible to faint while sitting or lying down, and older persons may faint upon suddenly assuming an upright position, after sitting for some time.

There is a strong factor of suggestion in fainting, as several persons may pass out in crowded places at the same time.

When someone faints, he should be laid in a comfortable position. The head should be turned to one side to prevent swallowing of the tongue or vomitus. No attempt should be made to force fluids down the throat because of the possibility of aspiration. The face may be gently bathed with cold water, but a large amount of water
should not be dashed on the face.
If quick response is not obtained, medical aid should be summoned
at once.

Saanich School Estimates Show $26,703 Increase

An increase of $26,703.44 over 1945 in Saanich School Board estimates which brings this year's total to $194,029.62, was announced Tuesday after the budget had been submitted to Reeve A. G. Lambbrick.

Increased school population, increased annual interest and sinking fund charges on new school construction totaling $13,- 000, and need for repairs were the main reasons for the increase this year.

In announcing the total estimates, D. R. McAdam, school board secretary, emphasized only standard government grants had been taken into consideration.
Increased amounts from the government were probable after implementation of the Cameron Report promised at the next session of the Legislature.

The board has done everything possible to hold the budget down," Mr. McAdam stated.
"However, factors beyond the control of the board members compel them to submit estimates which are higher than last year."

The only item in which a cut could be made was repair work costs, but, commented the board secretary, "This would make matters worse; the much-needed repair work must be started."

Increases in estimates were as follows: Teachers' salaries, increased $15,000 to $161,875 due to increase in number of pupils and increase in individual teachers' salaries; janitors' salaries, increased about $3,000 to $22,680, due to more janitors for more pupils and increase in individual salaries; interest and sinking fund increased $13,000 to $19,656, due to new schools to accommodate more pupils; fire insurance, increased $1,300 by new schools;
repairs, increased $6,500.

While a gross increase of $38,- 000 is shown, the actual increase will be $26,000. This is due to an estimated increase of $6,500 in government grants for additional teachers, and a surplus from 1945 of $5,500.

Gross expenditure for Saanich schools in 1946 is estimated as $277,436.05 against which revenue in the form of government grants, unexpended balance and other items is estimated at $63,- 436.43.

Direct cost to ratepayers will be $194,029.62 for ordinary expenditure, plus $450 extraordinary expenditure for a service hut at Mount Newton High

Seattle Ironmen Take Second Place

Second place in the northern division of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, which has been tossed about like a hot potato of late, acquired a new possessor in Seattle Ironmen Tuesday night.

In the first game of their southern invasion of the league, Iron-men dumped the Oakland Oaks, leaders of the southern section, 10 to 2 to move ahead of Portland Eagles, who didn't fare so well in their invasion of the coast and were handed a 3 to 0 shutout by Vancouver Canucks.

Goalie Ed McAnerley turned in his best performance of the current season when he blanked the Eagles to register his second shutout of the year.

Vancouver dented the twine
once in each frame; Andy Clowchuk started the ball rolling in the opening stanza and Alex Pringle netted one in each of the remaining periods.
